

The above is the New Dormitory being erected by the Chillicothe Business College of Chillicothe, Mo., which institution already occupies four large buildings and which has for some time enjoyed the distinction of occupying the largest plant in America devoted exclusively to business education. Its unusually large attendance this year made the above building a necessity. Many young men enter late in the fall when the heavy work upon the farms is finished and the management is thus endeavoring to get the new building ready for occupancy by December 1st, so as to accommodate these students. The new dormitory will contain twenty-four living rooms and will be strictly modern, supplied with furnace heat, bath, hot and cold water on each floor, in fact, all modern conveniences. All the furnishings will be new so the rooms will be among the most desirable to be found anywhere. This will make a splendid addition to the buildings owned by this large and popular college and is the best evidence which can be offered that the institution is growing rapidly.

Makes Good Address

Hon. John P. Gordon, State Auditor and candidate for reelection on the Democratic ticket spoke at the court house Thursday afternoon.

Though Mr. Gordon is well known and a political favorite here, other drawing cards prevented a large audience.

His speech was confined entirely to state issues and from his familiarity with state affairs he gave to his audience many statistical facts that were interesting and instructive and was highly pleasing to the Democrats presented and fully showed the extravagance of the Republican administration.

Mr. Gordon amongst other things opened up the conditions governing the appointment of game wardens or "rabbit shepherds" in this state. He is not an eloquent speaker but one who has a forceful way of presenting facts to those who desire to hear them.

"There could be no better medicine than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. My children were all sick with whooping cough. One of them was in bed and had high fever and was coughing up blood. Our doctor gave them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the first dose eased them, and three bottles cured them," says Mrs. R. A. Donaldson, of Lexington, Miss. For sale by all dealers.
